Case Study: HARRY

My name is Harry Perkins I am 16 and in S5, I had the opportunity to do work experience at Wallace McDowall as a welder.

The time I have spent here has been the best, the boys I have been working with have helped me through the whole thing. They make sure my welds improve every time. They are very friendly and always know what to say at the right time.

I have learned lots about the welding and fabrication terminology that is used in the workplace, and even started to use some of it when carrying out activities.

The opportunity I have been given was one of the best by far, I have had an amazing four days here and hopefully will do more in the future with Wallace McDowall. Thank you to everyone who made my experience one of the best.

Staff have commented that:

Harry acted professionally during his time at Wallace McDowall. He picked up the basics of welding quickly and completed a project of his own.
